

Description

“Firestone” is Norwegian DJ and producer Kygo’s first internationally charting single, with vocals sung by R&B singer Conrad (a mononym for Conrad Sewell). It peaked on charts in 14 countries between first and twelfth positions. Through many metaphors and juxtapositions, Conrad compares love to the flames resulting from firestone. “Firestone” along with many of Kygo’s remixes and singles are of the sub-genre Tropical House. Tropical House is a relatively new sub-genre of House, and Kygo is often credited with popularizing the sub-genre through his various remixes and singles. The song is the fifth track on his debut album, Cloud Nine.

Analysis

[Verse 1: Conrad Sewell]

I'm a flame, you're a fire

I'm the dark in need of light

When we touch, you inspire

Feel it changin' me tonight

Take me up, take me higher

There's a world not far from here

We can dance in desire

Or we can burn in love tonight

[Chorus: Conrad Sewell]

Our hearts are like firestones

And when they strike, we feel the love

Sparks will fly, they ignite our bones

And when they strike, we light up the world

[Chorus: Conrad Sewell]

Our hearts are like firestones

And when they strike, we feel the love

Sparks will fly, they ignite our bones

And when they strike, we light up the world

We light up the world

[Drop 1: Conrad Sewell]

We light up the world

Whoa, oh

World

Whoa, oh

[Verse 2: Conrad Sewell]

I'm from X

You're from Y

Perfect strangers in the night

Here we are, come together

To the world we'll testify

[Chorus: Conrad Sewell]

Our hearts are like firestones

And when they strike, we feel the love

Sparks will fly, they ignite our bones

And when they strike, we light up the world

[Chorus: Conrad Sewell]

Our hearts are like firestones

And when they strike, we feel the love

Sparks will fly, they ignite our bones

And when they strike, we light up the world

[Drop 2: Conrad Sewell]

We light up the world

We light up the word

Whoa, oh

World

Whoa, oh
